

TAASEN

The Game Of Tryslmaistan Chess

Taasen, the analogue of the earthly game of Chess within the Universe of Tryslmaistan, has uncertain origins. According to some, the game was invented by the third generation of the First People, the mythical ancestors of all humans, who came to Tryslmaistan from the Dark Realm hundreds of thousands of years ago. More sensible individuals ascribe the game to the invention of the advanced people who lived on the worldplate of Myrmil, and consider it the creation of a clever Alchemist, placing the game at around 400 to 500 years old. The Witches claim the game was given to the 13 Progenitors by the Goddess, after she created the universe and all the Worldplates, exactly 1313 years ago. Whatever the origin of Taasen, it is one of the most popular games of the Worldplate of Grynu.
